

Don't be late for the Mad Hatters Tea Party

Alice and her friends will be inviting you all, to join them for an afternoon of magic, mayhem and fun at Hat Works Museums first ever Mad Hatters Tea Party.

On Sunday 14th October, and part of this years Stockport Food and Drink Festival. Hat Works, the UK's only museum dedicated to the Hatting Industry, Hats and Headwear will bring to life `Lewis Carroll` timeless creation of Alice, the White Rabbit, Door Mouse and of course the Mad Hatter in true theatre style.

During the afternoon, guests can enjoy performances from NK Theatre Arts, listen to wonderful story telling from far away lands, go on a wild bunny hunt and learn the origin of the phrase `As mad as a hatter`. There will be craft activities to drop in on and face painting to delight. For those who will arrive early there will be free mini cakes and treats.

The event starts at 1.00pm and runs until 5.00pm, and will enchant all ages. All children gain free admission with adults and concessions charged £2.50. So take out your watch, and don't leave it to fate, mark in your diary, this very important date!
